

Ike and Benson Talk Farm Bill, Veto Is Likely

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower's headquarters said today he may go on nationwide television and radio next week to discuss his sign or veto decision on the politically explosive farm bill.

Reports persisted Eisenhower has decided to veto the measure but James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, declined comment.

Hagerty said "no decision has been reached yet" regarding an Eisenhower TV-radio talk, but that the possibility is being considered.

Hagerty said the statement to newsmen as Eisenhower awaited the arrival of Secretary of Agriculture Benson for a conference on the farm bill here tomorrow.

It is "quite probable," Hagerty said, that Eisenhower and Benson will decide tomorrow whether the President should go on the air.

Asked again about published reports that Eisenhower, who has called the bill unwelcome, already has decided to veto the election year measure, Hagerty said:

"I never make any comment on presidential action on any bill until the President takes such action."

Asked then whether Eisenhower has made up his mind yet, Hagerty replied he would have no comment on that either.

Earlier, Hagerty said the likelihood still is that in any event Eisenhower won't disclose his decision until he returns to Washington early next week.

The press secretary refused comment last night on a Kansas City Star Washington dispatch that the President definitely had decided against signing the farm measure.

The Kansas City Star said last night that Eisenhower has decided on a veto. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said here he had no comment on that dispatch by Duke Shoop of the star's Washington bureau, or any other "speculative" story.

Benson, who also has spoken out strongly against certain major provisions of the bill, is scheduled to arrive by plane from Washington late tonight.

He will be accompanied by Under Secretary of Agriculture Fred M. Morse; Don Paulsen, a Benson aide; Dr. Gabriel Hauge, presidential economic adviser; Fred A. Stanton, White House congressional liaison man; and Kevin McCann, assistant to Eisenhower on preparation of speeches and statements. They will meet with the President Saturday morning at his working vacation headquarters, the Augusta National Golf Club.

Inclusion of McCann in the Washington delegation touched off speculation that Eisenhower had summoned the writer specialist for preparation of a television radio address to the nation on his farm bill.

Asked about that possibility, Hagerty told newsmen that "nothing has been decided one way or the other."

One reporter remarked that calling McCann to Augusta seemed to indicate Eisenhower had decided to veto the bill and wanted an explanatory statement prepared.

Hagerty replied that was not necessarily so. He said the President plans to issue a statement whether he vetoes or signs the measure.

Fox Attacks Dog Inside City Limits

A presumably rabid fox which is known to have bitten at least one dog is still loose inside the city limits, residents were warned today.

State Policeman Scrub Mosier, enroute to an early Chamber of Commerce breakfast, spotted the fox on West Fourth Street. He followed the animal to 1014 West 5th where it attacked a dog and ran under a house.

Mr. Mosier and residents of the area were unable to locate the fox which apparently made good its escape.

Residents are warned that the animal is probably rabid and should caution their children and keep pets up.

Dr. Herbert Rogers also reminded that rabies shots will be given from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Saturday at the Health Department office in the Youth Center building. The shots will be given animals at actual cost which is $1.00.

Everyone is urged to have their dogs vaccinated.

Lee Ward to Run for Chief Justice Post

PARAGOULD, (AP) — Chancellor Lee Ward of Paragould said today he will run for chief justice of the Arkansas Supreme Court. His $1,500 filing fee was supplied by his colleagues in the 12th Chancery District.

Ward, who was elected chancellor in 1954, said he would mail his filing fee and his party loyalty and anti-corrupt practices pledges to the secretary of state today.

Shortly before he made the announcement, Ward was handed a check for $1,500 by John S. Mosby of Lepanto, president of the North-east Arkansas District Bar Association. Mosby said 123 lawyers contributed less than $25 each to build the filing fee fund.

The only other candidate so far is Circuit Judge Guy Amisler of Little Rock. Amisler already has qualified for the race.

The present chief justice is Leo Scamster, who was named by Gov. Orval Faubus after Chief Justice Griffin Smith died last year. Scamster is not eligible to succeed himself.

Ward was commander of the Arkansas Department of the American Legion in 1949-50 and was district governor of the Lions Club in 1952-53.

He is 49 years old.

White Teacher in Negro School Charge

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — A white teacher on the faculty of Philander Smith college, Negro institution supported by the Methodist church, will go on trial in federal District Court at Dayton, O., Monday on a charge of "contempt of Congress."

Dr. Lee Lorch, head of the mathematics department of the Little Rock Negro college, refused to tell the House Un-American Activities Committee in September 1954 whether he was a member of the Communist Party in 1941.

At the committee hearing, held in Dayton, he testified he was not at that time a member of the Communist Party. His appearance in response to a subpoena followed an attempt by him to have his daughter enrolled in the fourth grade of a Negro school at Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Lorch was head of the Fisk University mathematics department. Fisk is a Negro school. A majority of its trustees are white. Dr. Lorch said. He blames them for his ouster at Fisk, which also was as equal to his effort to transfer his child to a Negro public school.

While a resident of Nashville, Dr. Lorch was vice president of the Tennessee chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Philander Smith College employed him in September, 1955.

He joined the Fisk faculty after having been discharged by Pennsylvania State College. Dismissal came at time after he had invited a Negro couple to occupy an apartment rented by Dr. Lorch in a color-restricted housing project. That controversy took place in 1949, not long after City College of New York dropped him from its staff.

The Lorch family occupies a cottage at 1801 High Street, in a Negro neighborhood.

Condemned Man Ate a Hearty Supper — If It Were Your Last Just What Would You Choose?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The condemned man ate a hearty British supper.

The condemned man was me. Philip Harben, a portly man with a ginger bread who is Britain's best known chef, is touring America as a culinary ambassador. His purpose: To prove "that the art of good cooking has returned to Britain, and now visitors may eat like kings."

When an agent of the empire apprised me of this news, I expressed considerable doubt. I remarked that, like many Americans, I was convinced British cooking had never progressed beyond the neanderthal stage.

"Why don't you let Mr. Harben come to your home and cook you a meal?" suggested the empire agent. "He'll bring the food."

Well, you know how it is when

Pledges Ease Tension in Middle East

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

JERUSALEM (AP) — Tension eased noticeably across Israel today in the wake of pledges from Israel and Egypt to hold off any new shooting action except in self-defense.

The night passed quietly. No incidents were reported since yesterday's aerial engagement over Israel's Negev Desert and one exchange of rifle fire across the Gaza frontier several hours after.

Unofficial reports from Cairo said Arab commando squads—the Fedayeen—were being withdrawn from Israel. But an Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman asserted Egypt was "trying to pull the wool over the eyes of the world."

A 13-year-old boy, wounded Wednesday night in an attack on a school, died, by Israeli count, this brought the total of Fedayeen victims to 14 dead and 32 wounded since Saturday night. The Israelis said they killed 13 Fedayeen and captured 6.

The relaxation of tension over Israel was indicated by increasing preparations for Independence Day, to be ushered in Sunday evening.

The streets of Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Haifa and many other smaller cities were being decorated for the main celebrations Monday of Israel's 8th year as an independent state.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, in Cairo on the first leg of his worldwide peace tour, reported that Egypt and Israel had promised not to commit warlike acts against each other. Both countries, however, emphasized that they reserved the right to act in self-defense.

Shortly after Hammarskjöld's report was made public at U. N. headquarters in New York, it was announced that Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion had written the secretary general protesting that Egypt was continuing hostile actions.

In Cairo, the semi-official Egyptian News Agency said Israel had agreed in principle to a proposal by Hammarskjöld that Israeli and Egyptian forces withdraw 500 meters—slightly less than one-third mile—from the frontier. Israel had rejected the same proposal by Egypt last summer, contending a withdrawal would only make it easier for the Fedayeen to cross the frontier.

Egypt has been reported willing to withdraw from the Gaza Strip border but not from the frontier between the Negev Desert and the Sinai Peninsula.

In yesterday's aerial action over the southern desert area, Israel claimed one and possibly two Egyptian planes were downed. Egypt said one Israeli plane was shot down but the Israeli Army had announced earlier, "our planes returned safely to base."

Norstad to Succeed Gruenther

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP) — President Eisenhower today chose a 49-year-old four-star air general, Gen. Lauris Norstad, to succeed Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther in command of the North Atlantic defense forces.

The White House announced that Gruenther has applied to the president for retirement and that Mr. Eisenhower has nominated Norstad as his replacement. The change in command will take place late this year.

Norstad, now U. S. deputy commander for air, is a handsome, slender, blue-eyed Minnesota native generally regarded as one of the nation's most brilliant military leaders.

a columnist is offered a free meal. I thought the offer over for 3-5ths of a second and agreed.

"Do you have any particular preferences?" asked the empire's man.

"Tell Mr. Harben," I replied, "that if I had been condemned to death by an English judge for saying British cooking was among the worst in the world, I'd like him to prepare the kind of a meal I should have just before going to the scaffold — my last meal on earth."

The challenge stirred the artist in Harben, who is known to millions in his own country for his cooking demonstrations over BBC-TV. In due time he, his wife and the empire's advanced scout arrived loaded down with bottles and bundles.

Nervousness of Market Is Overcome

NEW YORK (AP) — Initial nervousness in the Stock Market today was overcome as prices moved higher.

The market was lower at the opening, turned mixed, then gathered strength following yesterday's hike in the bank lending rate by the Federal Reserve Board to the highest level since May 1955.

The reserve board's action, the fifth such anti-inflation move within a year, sent U. S. Treasury bonds lower in the over-the-counter market, some issues hitting their lowest prices since 1953. Corporate bonds were lower in quiet trading.

Uncertainty in the Stock Market was expected as a result of the higher interest rates deemed for money borrowed by commercial banks from the central banking system.

AP Pledges Fair, Honest Newsmen

NEW YORK (AP) — Election year coverage by The Associated Press will again be "as fair, honest and impartial as dedicated newsmen can make it," Frank J. Starzel, AP general manager, said today in his annual report.

"As it prepared for the campaign and election year ahead," he said, "the management and staff reaffirmed its dedication to the basic principles of the organization. The news will be pursued aggressively and without fear or favor."

"There will be no slavish word-counting to see if news coverage balances by actual weight, and we will not be swayed by partisan pressures or recriminations."

Starzel's report was mailed to members of The Associated Press, worldwide news cooperative, in advance of the AP's annual meeting April 23 in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be the principal speaker at the annual luncheon.

Starzel said the AP is leading in a trend toward providing more exclusive and background — interpretive material.

"More than ever before," he said, "the news report of The Associated Press in 1955 consisted of copy which no other service had. Spontaneous news still is the backbone of the average newspaper — and the AP news report — and the major stories are highly competitive."

"But the trend, in which the AP has led, is toward the exclusive story, the wrapup and the background-interpretive."

Starzel said controversy over desirability of explanatory interpretive articles appeared to subside during the year.

He said this probably resulted from two factors: increased conviction there is a need for "explaining and putting news events in perspective," and greater proficiency by writers in telling "what it means."

Commenting on AP's foreign coverage, Starzel said:

"As perhaps never before, our bureaus were called upon continuously to dig beneath the surface elements of bare events or announcements and attempt to bring out their true meaning."

"That this effort succeeded to a great degree was reflected in the wide use given AP foreign news."

Starzel reported continued growth in domestic membership in The Associated Press and in the number of foreign newspapers and radio stations subscribing to the news and newphoto service.

At the end of the year, 1,748 morning, afternoon and Sunday newspapers in the United States and 1,501 radio and television members were represented in the membership.

The service went also to subscribers in 88 countries outside the United States.

HOT SPRINGS, (AP) — A 9-year-old girl rescued a 3-year-old playmate from Lake Hamilton yesterday.

Neither child showed any ill effects from the wetting.

Gambling Foes Refuse to Leave Out Horse Races

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An effort to separate horse and dog racing as targets of an anti-gambling move got nowhere at a meeting here today.

A spokesman for the Arkansas Citizens Christian Council, which is working up petitions to outlaw pari-mutuel betting, refused to leave horse racing out of the battle.

Tom F. Digby, chairman of the church-sponsored council, told members of the Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce:

"Yours is a false economic motive and ours is a moral issue that gambling is evil. Our group is dedicated to a crusade to outlaw all pari-mutuel gambling in the state, whether it be horse racing or dog racing."

Albert Guice, a Hot Springs laundryman, reported that the Chamber of Commerce also may turn to the voters in an effort to keep legal pari-mutuel betting at Hot Springs' Oaklawn Park, the state's only horse race track.

The Arkansas Citizens Christian Council was formed earlier this year primarily to fight a proposed dog racing track at West Memphis.

The strategy of the council is to outlaw pari-mutuel betting, the financial backbone of legal horse and dog racing. Such a move would in effect mean the end of legal horse racing in Arkansas and would kill any chances of the proposed dog track.

Oaklawn Park at present conducts the only pari-mutuel betting in Arkansas. The proposed dog track also would have pari-mutuel betting.

Truce Success Means Much to UN Team

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials expect the United Nations truce supervision team in the Middle East to be doubled if present U. N. peace efforts are successful.

The United States is backing the U. N. mission to the limit. The little White House at Augusta, Ga. announced yesterday President Eisenhower and sent personal messages to Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel.

Indications were that he was urging restraint on both sides in the critical situation.

The messages were sent Monday in connection with Eisenhower's public statement, announced then, which in effect told both Arabs and Israelis the United States is determined to oppose any aggression in the area.

What American officials most fear is not that either leader would deliberately start a war now but that a continuance of bloody border incidents would precipitate a general conflict neither side could stop.

The Palestine truce supervision organization under Canadian Gen. Edw. Burns plays an important role in trying to avoid such incidents.

Dispatches from Cairo last night were somewhat optimistic about the U. N. peace mission, being handled personally by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

121 Arkansans to Be Drafted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas' share of the 12,000-man national draft call for May will be 121.

State Selective Service Director Col. Fred M. Croom said the May call would be filled with men who are at least 22 years old.

The quota for May, Col. Croom said, is nearly twice as large as April's figure of 88 but 15 men less than the May 1955 quota.

Democrats Promise to Use Veto

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Democrats made it clear today they would use a veto of the new farm bill by President Eisenhower as a springboard for direct attacks on him in the political campaign.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said that if Eisenhower rejects the bill "it will be his own personal decision," and he added:

"The issue will be on the President's desk then. There will be no way he can shift the blame to Secretary of Agriculture Benson and try to dodge the political consequences."

"I don't think the Democrats will let the farmers forget who is responsible."

Democrats have been contending that what they call "unrest" in the farm areas would help their chances in November. Many of them have conceded privately, however, that resentment at low prices thus far seemed to be directed more at Benson than at Eisenhower.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee said he thinks a veto would bring an overnight change.

"If the President vetoes the bill—and I still don't think he will—the farmers will blame Eisenhower personally, and not Benson, for their plight," he said.

Ellender said a veto would hurt Eisenhower politically. He added that if the bill is rejected "there is no question in my mind that we will have a Democratic Senate and House next year."

There was word yesterday from Augusta, Ga., where Eisenhower is mixing work and golf, that he is not likely to act on the bill until he returns to the capital next week.

Taking note of this, Humphrey said in a statement "I am sure our farmers will understand that worry over a farm bill can get a man off his golf game."

The tone of Democratic attacks was set yesterday by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Johnson told newsmen that if Eisenhower rejects the bill "he will be taking two billion dollars out of the pockets of the farmers."

Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.), who voted against the measure, said he thinks the farmers are "divided on whether it is a good bill or not."

Sen. Schoeppel of Kansas, who recently succeeded Goldwater as chairman of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, viewed a possible veto with misgivings. Schoeppel voted for the bill when it passed the Senate.

"I think a veto will make it pretty rough for us in some of the farm states," Schoeppel said.

Harvard Band Has Red Face

UXBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The faces of the Harvard University band, 80 strong, were crimson last night — someone forgot to bring the music.

The oversight was discovered as the band arrived at Uxbridge High School for a concert.

The start was delayed more than an hour as two couriers sped some 50 miles from Cambridge with the music sheets.

Garbage, Trash Fees Revised by Council

In a special session last night Hope City Council voted to revise Health Department fees effective May 1 in an effort to bolster the city's biggest financial headache.

A recent city audit showed the department going into the red by $18,180. Fees collected amounted to $20,485 but the department cost the city $38,665 last year. In the first few months of this year, the trend has continued.

Now faced with a problem of garbage disposal the council acted to offset some of the increased expenses which are bound to result. The city now is forced to bury its garbage daily. Previously the garbage was processed and fed to hogs but the deal fell through. The city has never had anything but trouble with this disposal method and a majority of the council last night favored burying the garbage as the only method that would prove satisfactory.

Mayor H. M. Olsen recommended that residential garbage fees be made 50c per house to everyone, and that trash and garbage rates for the downtown area and industries be sharply revised. The council approved both recommendations. A special committee was set up to revise the downtown rates. Actually the Council likes to call the garbage and trash hauling fees a health tax.

There was much discussion on burying both garbage and trash but before action is taken a committee will contact other cities the size of Hope and find out how they are disposing of trash etc.

In other action the group awarded a contract to Layne Arkansas Co. of Stuttgart for digging a new city water well. Upon completion the well will cost the city in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Bids will be taken on re-roofing the Youth Center building with work to start as soon as possible. Action was delayed on a proposal for the parties concerned to either fix up the Scout cabin at Fair Park or tear it down.

professional work — including the washing up," said Harben.

Donning a striped butcher's apron, he disappeared into the kitchen. A great clattering arose, and soon haunting fragrances emerged.

Frances peeked into the kitchen, came back and whispered:

"I wouldn't go in there if my life depended on it. The place is full of flying knives."

I must say the dinner, when it was served, was fit for any king, including Henry VIII, whom the jolly Harben resembles.

First came pink slices of Scottish salmon, the tenderest I've ever tasted, washed down with atom-billado sherry.

Then sweet-baked Dover sole and a glass of chablis wine.

The traditional British "joint of beef," a vast rib roast, was a crisp and juicy brown masterpiece. With it came Yorkshire pudding — Harben had let the meat drip into it to give it more flavor — cauliflower and a bottle of burgundy.

There was a tense moment when one of the guests asked for catsup.

"If there is anything wrong with American food," sighed Harben, "it is your tendency to smother it with catsup."

No catsup. It seemed a fair exchange, Harben, after all, had refrained from submitting us to the ordeal of Brussels sprouts.

Then followed fresh strawberries and cream, a vast chunk of stilton cheese, a glass of port.

As we relaxed comfortably over our coffee and a nip of brandy, Harben asked, "well?"

"I take it all back," I told him. "If that's a sample of honest British cooking, I must admit I never had a better meal in my life."

Harben's head rose and flew as proudly as the Union Jack, waving at full staff.

"Any food is good if it's well prepared," he said generally.

"Don't you hate any food?"

"Well, I must say I don't care for tripe or octopus. I've cooked hundreds of portions of octopus, but the smell is hard on the chef. Terrible."

"If you were on your death bed," I inquired, "and could take only one last bite of food, what would it be?"

Harben puffed thoughtfully on a long Havana cigar. It was a hard question for a connoisseur.

"I believe it would be a slice of bread and butter," he said finally, then added, "spread with a bit of caviar, naturally."

Man Beats Youth Who Leaves Home

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U) — An 11-year-old boy, who said he ran away from home because his father beat him, won't be sent back.

Juvenile Court Judge Louis H. Jull ruled Wilson R. McCormick's 205-pound father, "Big Jim" McCormick, failed during a hearing to indicate he wanted his son back. A further hearing was set for May 2 after Judge Jull placed the boy in temporary custody of an unidentified civic leader and his wife.

The boy's father was quoted by social workers last Sunday as saying he wanted the boy returned so he could send him to a reform school. But yesterday the father told Judge Jull "I made a false word when I said that I wanted him to come back that I was aiming to send him to reform school."

The boy was found in tattered clothing here last Wednesday. He didn't tell officials where he lived and his Upton, Ky., home wasn't revealed until his parents were traced through a newspaper story.

Said Mrs. Evans, "Good God!"

Some Programs on TV Really Outstanding

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (U) — In this waning television season a reviewer remembers some outstanding programming for the home screen — as well as many failures.

CBS-TV has brought us some excellent works — via "Onibus," "Ford Star Jubilee" and Ed Murrow's "See It Now" in addition to special events. ABC-TV has supplied "Disneyland" and some good special events.

While NBC-TV has had a share of failures, notably in some of its "spectaculars," a reviewer cannot help but be impressed by its programming philosophy. In actual attainment the month of January on NBC-TV was probably the highest level achieved by any network.

For example:

"Peter Pan," the best single program yet seen on television, was repeated to the delight of all. "Nightmare in Red," that excellent documentary film on the rise of communism in Russia, also was repeated to a large audience.

Moral: It's the best of ideas for a network to repeat its best programs occasionally.

In "Festival of Music" 13 noted musical artists offered some of the best of classical music. Mozart's "The Magic Flute" was presented by "NBC Opera Theatre" in a two and one-half hour production.

Moral: The idea that classical music has not place on television is a myth concocted — perhaps — by the radio industry.

"Conversations" was a weekly series dedicated to the idea that everyone has much to learn from men who have lived long and wisely. There were filmed interviews with Dr. Paul J. Tillich, a noted Protestant theologian; Pablo Casals, the foremost cellist of our time; Marcel Duchamp, a French-born painter; Sean O'Casey, the Irish dramatist; and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Moral: It's good when television looks at life and culture beyond our borders.

"Wide World" went visiting across America three times in January: on New Year's Day, in a portrait of an American winter, and in a contrast of north and south on a winter Sunday afternoon.

Moral: The great diversity and vitality of American life cannot be examined too thoroughly by television.

There were numerous other examples of enlightened programming on NBC-TV during this month.

NBC-TV has not yet disclosed programming plans for next season. Let's hope that the philosophy that brought us such programming in January and other months will continue to make itself felt.

BIRD MOLTINGS

Most birds go through one molting period a year, at the end of the season in which they rear their young. Some birds, however, molt two or three times a year.

Hemophilic Thinks People Are Fine

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — James E. Garner, 27, a hemophilic who may be the nation's largest consumer of donated blood, using a pint a day, says he never could become a cynic about the world he lives in.

"People are pretty damn fine," he said yesterday as scores of fellow students at San Francisco State College gave their blood for him in the fourth such campaign since he entered the college 2½ years ago. "I'm thankful for it every day of my life."

On April 20 he will receive the 1,000th pint of plasma from the Irwin blood bank alone. The need stretches indefinitely into the future.

Like other sufferers from hemophilia, the disease which prevents proper coagulating of the blood, Jim Garner has spent a good part of his life in bed. Living outside it is hazardous because the slightest bruise or wrench can start internal, painful bleeding.

Fined $1 for Hitting School Board Man

HOXIE, (U) — B. L. Myers of nearby Sedgewick yesterday was fined $1 in mayor's court here on his plea of guilty to striking Howard Vance, president of the Hoxie School Board, Tuesday night.

The school board has been in the middle of a controversy, in and out of the courts, since it ordered an end to racial segregation in the Hoxie School District, which includes Sedgewick, last year.

Myers said segregation was not involved in his striking of Vance, which took place after a school board meeting last night.

Myers said Vance "has violated certain agreement were made at the time of the consolidation of schools," in 1949. He did not say what these purported agreements were.

Witnesses said Myers accosted Vance and after a few words hit the board president twice in the face. Bystanders separated the two men.

Dumas Wants Rail Signal Quick

DUMAS (U) — The Dumas City Council yesterday afternoon started a movement for a warning signal at a railroad crossing where a father and six-year-old son were injured fatally by a train yesterday morning.

The father, J. R. Robertson, 34, was dead on arrival at a hospital after his pickup truck had collided with a Missouri Pacific train. The boy, Jerry, died shortly after the City Council had held its special meeting.

After trying unsuccessfully to reach MoPac President Pat J. Neff at St. Louis, the alderman adopted a resolution asking the railroad to place a signal light at the crossing, where they said a nearby building obstructs a clear view of the tracks.

The councilmen also put on first reading a proposed ordinance to limit the speed of trains through Dumas to five miles an hour.

Council members said they didn't want to impose the speed limit but would if the railroad did not install a signal light.

Movies Sign Up the Two Knox Boys

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Sports followers have become well aware of who Harvey Knox is, and it's possible that movie fans will be getting acquainted with the gent, too.

Harvey is the highly vocal stepfather of UCLA's handsome half-back, Ronnie Knox. It is now legend how Harvey checker-boarded Ronnie from school to school to attain the best advantage for the lad's brilliant football career. Harvey's verbal duels with coaches, sports writers and anyone else in sight are famous.

Now MGM has signed Ronnie as an actor. He'll also continue playing football for the Bruins. I wonder if the studio knows what it is getting into. I can imagine this exchange between stepfather Harvey and studio boss Dore Schary:

Schary: Mr. Knox, I called you here because the publicity department is upset.

Harvey: That's okay. I'm upset with them, too. How come they aren't getting more fan magazine spreads on my boy?

Schary: Mr. Knox, the publicity department tells me that you called up the movie columnists after the preview of Ronnie's picture. You told them that Ronnie was great but the picture stunk.

Harvey: It sure did. If Red Sanders coached football the way you make pictures, he'd be back at — underbait in a season.

Schary: About the new script. Is it true that you told Ronnie to throw the picture?

Harvey: Sure did. I won't let him appear opposite that unknown girl. You can't expect the boy to score a touchdown without some interference. How about borrowing Marilyn Monroe?

Schary: Don't you think Monroe is a little high — powered for Ronnie?

Harvey: That's what they said about the USC line. Another thing — you haven't got a big enough budget on the picture.

Schary: But we're going to spend a million and a half dollars!

Harvey: Not enough. I don't want my boy associated with any B pictures. Now what about "Ben Hur"?

Schary: What about it?

Harvey: That'd be a good yarn for my boy. He could really handle those chariots.

Schary: I'll think about it.

Harvey: You do that. And just remember Paramount and RKO are eager to sign my boy, not to mention the Los Angeles Rams.

So long, Schary. I gotta go supervise spring training.

Western Union Office Robbed

FORT KNOX, Ky. (U) — Almost within the shadow of the big government gold vault, a lone bandit made off with $50.

The Western Union office robbery also occurred within 200 feet of the provost marshal's headquarters of the Army's huge armored center.

The bandit wrote a message and handed it to clerk Mrs. Shirley Thomas. It read:

"Give me all you have or I'll shoot."

Mrs. Thomas said she tried to stall for time, but the man, with his hand in a pocket as if he had a gun, snapped:

"Well, you can read, can't you? Make it snappy, no change."

Mrs. Thomas obeyed. The man fled.

Picketing of Gas Line Prohibited

LITTLE ROCK (U) — Pulaski Chancellor Guy Williams yesterday prohibited union picketing of municipal gas line construction at Des Arc and Hazen.

The cities asked the injunction on grounds that the strike by the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union violated the Right to Work amendment to the state Constitution.

The union contended the wage issue only concerned a dispute over wages paid Slade and McElroy Gulfport, Miss., subcontractors. Chancellor Williams said testimony showed that the wage issue was not raised until the union sent an official to the scene. He said the strike had created a hardship in the two cities.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Paul M. McNerney, 1234 South Garrison, and the late Mr. McNerney. Mr. Tompkins is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tompkins of Prescott, Ark.

Preceding the ceremony Robert Harris, organist, played "Dreams" by Wagner, "Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap, "Prelude No. 8" by Bach, "A Sweet Mystery of Life" by Herbert, "To An Evening Star" by Litz, "Prelude to Act III of Lohengrin" by Wagner, "Romanza Op. 28" by Schumann, "Nocturne in E Flat" by Chopin, and "Wedding Bells" by Pechel. As the candles were being lighted he played "Berceuse" by Gtchaniouff and during the service "Because" by Ilyinsky.

Mrs. Horace Mahan of Abilene, Texas, sang "Dedication" by Schumann and "At Dawning," by Cadman, after the lighting of the candles and at the conclusion of the vows by the couple she sang "Ave Maria" by Schubert.

Mr. Harris played the accompaniment for Mrs. Mahan and also played the traditional wedding marches.

Easter lilies and baskets of bridal wreath on tall standards and floor candelabra formed the chancel setting for the ceremony.

On the altar were brass urns of Easter lilies and seven-branch candelabra. The center aisle was lighted with tapers in white standards entwined with plumosus fern and decorated with lilies tied with white ribbon.

The candles were lighted by Jon McNerney, nephew of the bride, and Philip Hope.

McNerney, Jr., Mrs. James Turrentine of Stamford, Conn., was matron of honor, and her other attendants were Mrs. Don Webb, Eureka, Mo., Mrs. L. J. Cunningham, Columbia and Mrs. Martin McNerney. The train-length illusion veil was attached to a small white hat which was embellished with seed pearls and pearlized skeleton leaves. She carried a white Prayer Book with a white orchid and streamers knotted with Stephanotis.

The rose petal pink gowns of the bride's attendants were designed with long line fitted bodices of pink lace over taffeta with brief sleeves and round necklines. The bouffant skirts of matching taffeta were made of small pink flowers with pink illusion veils at the back and carried crescent bouquets of blue daisies.

Mr. Tompkins was attended by Clayton E. Smith, as best man. Ushers were John Province, Paris, Tenn., Don Webb, L. J. Cunningham, ham, the Rev. J. Donald Krulhof, Robert Hoppe and John Williams.

Mrs. McNerney, mother of the bride, chose a Dior blue lace suit with matching accessories, while Mrs. Tompkins, mother of the bridegroom, wore a mauve chiffon dress with matching accessories. Each had an orchid corsage.

The wedding reception was at Broadway Country Club. The bride's table was covered with an imported Irish linen cloth, draped with white satin ribbon with small bouquets at each draping. Centering the table was a crystal opergne of white roses and tall white tapers in crystal holders. The tiered wedding cake was topped with beautifully jeweled bride and bridegroom figurines inside a small white castle. The figurines were a gift of the bridegroom's mother.

Back of the receiving line was an arrangement of pink gladioli and carnations.

Janet and Kathie McNerney nieces of the bride, and Connie Martha and Charlotte Smith, carried little white wicker baskets containing rice packets, which they passed out to the guests to be used in showering the bride couple as they left on their wedding trip to Colorado Springs.

"Six months in jail," said Schumacher.

"Six months it is," said the judge.

Orphanage Representative to Talk Here

Philip Crouch, who is associated with the internationally-known Assiut Orphanage, of Egypt, will be guest speaker at the Gospel Tabernacle Sunday, April 15. Announcement of the service was made today by Rev. W. C. Land, pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Crouch returned to the States in November, 1955 for their third furlough since beginning missionary service in Egypt in 1937. They are under appointment of the Foreign Missions Department of the Assemblies of God with headquarters in Springfield, Missouri.

The Crouches have had varied experience during these years of service in Egypt. After language work at the American University in Cairo, they were engaged in district evangelistic ministry. For a time they assisted in a day school in Cairo and later worked in a training project for national ministers.

During the war Mr. Crouch assisted in the Y. M. C. A. Prisoner of War program, visiting regularly large prison camps in the deserts surrounding Cairo.

In 1948 Mr. and Mrs. Crouch were assigned to work in the Assiut Orphanage. This Orphanage, founded by Lillian Thrasher, is a faith work in so far as it is not endowed and no sum is guaranteed for its support. Interested friends in Egypt and America have kept it open for forty-five years with their offerings. More than nine hundred orphans and widows now find shelter at the Assiut Orphanage and it takes over one thousand dollars each week to supply this large family with food and clothing. That this sum is supplied week after week, year after year, constitutes probably the outstanding miracle of that home.

Last spring the Assiut Orphanage began receiving American Relief Shipments of food. Until this food arrived the majority of the children had never tasted butter and cheese, and had received only very limited amounts of milk.

The day Mr. Crouch left Assiut for furlough a large section of the boys' school building collapsed and must be replaced. During his furlough to America Mr. Crouch will visit churches to acquaint them with the work of the orphanage.

He is seeking aid in a building program to gradually replace the older buildings of the orphanage which were constructed with sundried brick.

Rev. Land extends an invitation to the public to hear Mr. Crouch.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The familiar saying that "the blood of martyrs is the seed of the church" is true to the early times of Christianity, to much that has happened throughout the Christian centuries and it may apply to much that is happening in present-day persecutions.

A question that must be in many minds is "does history really repeat itself?" It is seen being shown in the martyrdoms of today which will bear fruit in lands that have virtually blacked out Christianity?

The bitterest persecution in recent years has been in countries where formerly Roman Catholicism has been strong. The persecution has not spared its highest officials and Cardinals.

The imprisonment has apparently been accompanied by attempts at so-called "brain washing" in an attempt to break down mind and will by drugs and other methods.

More recently the cruellest and most intense persecution has been in Communist China. While it has been heavily upon Roman Catholics (especially the courageous and devoted Maryknoll missionaries), the persecution has been against Roman Catholic and Protestant alike.

A Presbyterian missionary recently was permitted to leave at Hong Kong, broken and emaciated in body, with his wife insane from her sufferings.

Christian colleges have been disrupted and noble enterprises like Yale, in China, which enlisted the voluntary service of many of the finest of college graduates, have had to abandon their work.

Will there be a restoration? Will the blood of the martyrs prove to be the seed of Christ-

Carnival Workers Are People, Too! Settle Religious Problem First. Guest Asked to Pay Board

Dear Dorothy Dix: My 19-year-old daughter met a fellow at the fair last year and now she thinks she's in love and wants to marry him. I don't want to be narrow-minded, but I always thought folks who followed fairs and carnivals weren't the right kind of folks to take up with. I've talked to her, but to no avail. She wants to get married this summer. Please advise.

Dear W. B.: You've probably carried a mental picture of your daughter settling down with a solid citizen whose job is steady, whose position in the community is impeccable. Young people, however, have a disconcerting way of making their own decisions.

Carnival people are essentially no different from other people. If you ever looked behind the scenes you'd find them a hard-working crew, with the same aims as people in more conventional jobs.

Judge the young man on his own merits, not on your distrust of his job. If he's been a faithful suitor for a year, his chances of being a devoted husband are as good as any other boy's.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My father recently started corresponding with a cousin he hadn't seen in years. We were invited to visit them, but since it was impossible for the family to go, Dad went alone. A few days after his arrival, the cousin's wife told my father he'd be expected to pay for his room and board. Did you ever hear of anything like that? Inviting a guest, then expecting payment for the visit!

Dear T. G.: Your father's cousin evidently didn't take his wife into his confidence when he issued the invitation, or he didn't really expect Dad to take him up on it. People do that all the time. "Do come see us," is a polite expression that doesn't mean a darn thing. Dad will be more wary of long-lost relatives in the future.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My church had a "Youth Revival" last week and I fell in love with the preacher. I know he's not married, but I don't know if he goes with a girl. How can I go about finding out? He's very handsome.

Dear Q. Q.: You and most every girl who attended the revival, concentrating on his teaching. Instead of his looks, would be far more productive.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a divorcee of 33, have two children and live with my parents. They have been wonderful to me. My husband left me five years ago for another woman. Three months ago I met a fine man who wants to marry me. Father says I should wait a year if I marry before that, he won't speak to me again. This is the "only man" I've dated since my husband and I separated.

Dear Lett: You seem to be a circumspet person and at 33 you should know your own mind. I'll go along with Dad in advising three months is a short acquaintance for marriage, but suggest a compromise at six months. But time had, may be, willing to skip the dramatics.

Most "tractor" accidents occur when the machines are driven too fast, says the National Safety Council.

Sauer, Musial Seem to Fill Bill for Cards

By ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

It looks like Hank Sauer, who at 37 is a misfit in the St. Louis Cardinals' accent on youth, may fill the bill for Manager Fred Hutchinson just by doing what comes naturally—hammering home runs and looking with indifference on opposing southpaws.

"We've got the speed to steal, take the extra base and hit-and-run," Hutch observed this spring, "but let's not kid ourselves. We need a guy who can hit the long ball."

General Manager Frank Lane in exchange for utility man Pete Whisenand and a few bills, called Sauer from the Chicago Cubs with the comment Hank not only presented a long ball threat, but as a right-handed swinger might counterpunch some of the southpaw pitchers who have given the Cards, heavy with left-handed hitters, so much trouble.

In the last two days, Hank has teamed with Stan (The Man) Musial for back-to-back home runs—each time off southpaws. Wednesday they mobbed the Chicago White Sox' Jack Harshman to overcome a 3-0 deficit. Yesterday they made up a 2-0 handicap on consecutive pitches by Billy Pierce and the Cards went on to score three in the 10th nail the Sox 5-2.

That kind of swinging could put Sauer in left field opening day at Cincinnati against the Redlegs' ace lefty, Joe Nuxhall. Even before Hank joined in the power partnership with Musial, Hutchinson admitted he had an edge over slumping regular Rip Repulski.

Rookie Jackie Brandt, also in the battle for an outfield berth, whacked a double in the winning rally off Morris Martin as the Cards made it four straight over the Sox. Vinegar Bend Mizell, Gordon Jones and Larry Jackson gave the Pale Hope seven hits, but shut them out after the second inning.

It was a day of home run hitting. The New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, each collected four while winning their games by 8-7 scores. Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard, Bill Skowron and Hank Bauer homered for the Yanks to beat Cincinnati. Bauer's 7-poll tie in the eighth after Mickey McDermott and Jim Konstanty had blown a 6-0 Yank lead. Wally Post smashed a three-run homer off McDermott.

Rookie Rocky Colavito smacked two of the Tribe's homers, but the Indians didn't snare the New York Giants until the 11th when Jim Constantine forced Colavito home by walking Chico Carasquel. Vic Wertz and Bobby Avila got the other homers as Cleveland ended the series with an 11-8 edge over the Giants.

Gene Freese also walked two homers, his second giving Pittsburgh a 2-1 decision over Kansas City in the 10th. The Pirates won the series in 11-5. Art Swanson and Elroy Face held the A's hitless over the last five frames.

Eddie Mathews slugged a three-run homer and Bobby Thomson drove in two to break a seventh-inning tie as the Milwaukee Braves beat Detroit 7-5.

Boston drew six walks and four runs from Curt Simmons, who was clipped for a two-run single by Ted Williams, to beat Philadelphia 6-4. The Phils had homers from rookie Bob Bowman, who hit a pinch, two-run job, and Roy Smalley.

The only game without a home run saw rookie Gino Cimoli bat in five runs with a triple, double and single. Brooklyn defeated Baltimore 7-2. Charley Templeton and Ken Lehman, rookie left-handers, set down the Orioles on three singles and a harmless triple by Fred Marsh.

Travelers Lose to Memphis
BY VERNON BUTLER
Of The Associated Press

When they repainted Sulphur Dell and removed the right-field dump at the ancient Nashville ball park last winter, they must have changed the atmosphere, too.

They can't call it a Southern Association pitcher's graveyard anymore, at least not as far as the Vols' "big three" are concerned. Right-hander Bob Kelly and left-handers Rick Botscho and Roy Pardue went the distance, as the Vols swept the opening series from Chattanooga.

Botscho and Pardue struck out 12 Lookouts each, and Botscho hurled a three-hit shutout.

The beknocking barrier in right field wasn't moved back, but fans had to wait for the third game to see the first homer. Ken Landenberger hit it last night in the eighth inning of Nashville's 10-2 victory.

Birmingham made it two straight over Atlanta 8-2, Memphis remained unbeaten with a 6-1 decision over Little Rock and Mobile beat New Orleans 3-1 for a draw in their opening series.

Suggs, Berg Are the Favorites
BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Louise Suggs and Patty Berg were the favorites today as a field of 22 moved out in the opening round of the 54-hole $5,000 Babe Zaharias Open golf tournament.

Miss Suggs, leading money winner along the winter tour, and Babe Zaharias, who spent most of her girlhood in Beaumont, was honored by having a street named for her. It was the Babe Zaharias Drive in Tyrell Park.

Yesterday Mrs. Zaharias, who won her first title in 1935, was here. She is in a hospital at Galveston fighting cancer.

Miss Berg, who has won two tournaments, was considered the odds on to beat Betty Jameson, is defending champion but hasn't won a tournament this year.

Miss Berg has stood out in the practice rounds. She had a four-under-par 69 over the 5,533-yard Beaumont County Club course.

Babe Zaharias, for whom the tournament was named and who won its inaugural in 1935, won't be here. She is in a hospital at Galveston fighting cancer.

Flint Team Is 4th in Bowling

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Stroth's Beer of Flint, Mich., won fourth place in yesterday's bowling at the 43rd annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

The Flint team, not to be confused with Stroth's Beer of Detroit, which is holding down third place, tallied 2,957 on games of 1021, 919 and 1017.

Falstaff Beer of Chicago is in first place, 135 pins ahead.

James Webb of Houston, Texas, was top singles man with 625, but trailed first place Eli Fantilla of Dekalb, Ill., who has 722.

In the doubles, Louis Clifton and Adolph Carlsson of Chicago headed the day's scorers with 1234 points. The division is led by Bill Lillard and Stan Gifford of Chicago with (33).

The ABC directors unanimously awarded the 1956 tournament to Syracuse.

The 1957 tourney was awarded to Fort Worth, Texas, last year.

Johnson Hurls Hope Baseball Team to Win

Yesterday at Legion field, the Big League All-Stars jumped on the Stamps Yellowjackets for 11 hits and 9 runs while Wayne Johnson was holding the Stamps boys to 5 singles. Johnson walked only 2 men.

In the bottom of the second inning, Jerry Fant drew a base on balls followed by Willie Watson with a base on balls, then Wayne Johnson, Travis Purtle and Johnny Lingo hit successive singles to give the Hope boys an early 4-to-0 lead.

Stamps broke the ice in the third when Kuykendall was hit by a pitched ball, went to third on Wilkerson's single and scored on a grounder to deep second. Then in the bottom of the third, Jerry Fant tripled to deep left center and scored when the center fielder errored on Wayne Johnson's smash. Travis Purtle again singled, took second on Lingo's grounder and scored on a long single by Ken Jones, to give Hope 3 more.

Again in the fourth Fant singled and came home on Watson's double. Johnson then singled Watson home to give Hope its final tally.

Stamps picked up 2 more in the sixth on successive singles by James, Chastain, Sims and Nichols.

Wayne Johnson with 3 for 4 and Jerry Fant and Travis Purtle, each with 2 for 3 led the hitting. Watson, Lingo, K. Jones and Larry Cox each picked up one hit.

The Big League All Stars are jointly sponsored by the Hope Star, the Citizens Bank, the Rotary Club and the Coca Cola Bottling Company. The team works in cooperation with the Hope High School in playing other high schools. Both the players and the Parks and Recreation Dept. are very grateful for the sponsors and the cooperation of the High School in making this program possible for this age group.

Jackson Is Favored to Lick Williams
WASHINGTON (AP) — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, whose freewheeling style has exhausted many a domestic fighter, expressed little interest today over wearing down England's Johnny Williams in their 10-round heavyweight scrap tonight.

"I think maybe I'll hit him down," Jackson said with a grin. "Maybe pretty early."

Jackson is a heavy favorite to whip Williams, 29-year-old former British Empire heavyweight champ, in their radio - television bout NBC, 10 P.M. EST at Uline Arena.

Odds reported in New York were as high as 4-1 in favor of the 24-year-old Hurricane from Long Island. In Washington where Williams trained the talk is more like 2-1.

At any rate, it will be a major surprise if the curly-haired Brit can undermine Jackson's current position as second-ranked contender to Rocky Marciano's title. The records credit Williams with 67 victories and four draws in 69 fights. His last effort was a draw—which he protests—with light heavyweight Willie Woepner of Germany.

Williams' manager, veteran Ted Broadbribb, says the 195 - pound livestock farmer from Rugby has a style calculated to please American fans.

He walks in and hits, Broadbribb says. All of which pleases Jackson, who has knocked out 12 of his 28 victims in 31 contests. He said he prefers opponents who apply pressure.

Miss Berg, who has won two tournaments, was considered the odds on to beat Betty Jameson, is defending champion but hasn't won a tournament this year.

"The Whole Armor"

God commands all men to "put on the whole armor, the bullet-proof vest of righteousness, the shield of faith, the helmet of salvation." Every day is a fight against deceitfulness, covetousness, cowardice, profanity, immorality and a multitude of sins which your church does not stand for. Your armor must serve both defensively and offensively and a second line of defense, named morale, is necessary. Cheating means the enemy's missile has wounded your soul. Better put on a little more of God's armor... church-going, prayer and unselfish living. If you expect to win the fight.
